CALIFORNIA'S LEGISLATURE.

California's Legislature finally adjourned last night, after continuing in session for almost a month beyond the constitutional limit for which it could draw pay.

It is to the credit of the Phoenix merchants that the increased cost of transportation has not been made a pretext for any exorbitant charges upon staple lines of goods.

New Mexico intends to devote most of her appropriation of $25,000 to an exhibition of the mineral products of the Territory at the World's Fair. What has become of Arizona's collection that excited so much comment at the New Orleans exposition?

The Harrison Club should "get together." With a city election coming on, and the selection of men to attend the constitutional convention the club should meet to talk over and, if advisable, present available men for the suffrage of the people.

If the farmers of this valley will take observations they will see that the man who gets his crop in first, well plowed and then well harrowed and rolled never fails of a good crop. By the way the importance of rolling is little understood. It simply saves half the seed.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette makes a wise suggestion: "Give the immigration laws a rigorous enforcement. Make them, at the first opportunity, more restrictive. This is in accord with the wisest opinion and most patriotic sentiment of the country."

Phoenix wants a good business man for Mayor the coming year. Under the revised charter there will be numerous improvements to be made the next year that will call for the very best executive ability, and upon the shoulders of the Mayor will rest much of the responsibility for the work.

No town in the Union offers a better location for a first-class steam laundry than Phoenix. The Chinese, who have had a monopoly of the laundry work in the city, are becoming extortionate in their charges, and they do very poor work besides. For the average weekly washing of young men they demand from $1 to $1.50, and a case came to our knowledge this week wherein $4.50 was demanded for the laundry work of a family of four, all adults. Such prices are simply outrageous. Phoenix is a city of 6000 people and the first steam laundry that locates here will reap a fortune.

The Legislature just closed passed a law granting to first-class counties the right to issue bonds to the extent of $15,000 for bridge building. It would be well for the Supervisors of Maricopa county to take up the subject and see if within this sum a good wagon bridge could be built across the Salt river at Tempe. Even if a bridge to be used solely for teams could not be built within this sum, surely it seems to us arrangements might be made with the railroad company by which a combined railroad and wagon bridge could be built. The lack of communication the past thirty days has shown the imperative need of a good bridge across Salt river and the matter should receive the earnest attention it deserves.

The people of Yavapai county are evidently not entirely satisfied with their experiment of sending Democrats to represent them in the Legislature, and there is much weeping and wailing in Israel (Yavapai). A correspondent to the Journal-Miner expresses himself as follows: "Last November, 1890, our people, irrespective of party, and upon a broad-gauged basis, went to the election polls and deposited their little snow-balled ballots for what they had supposed would prove to be distinguished statesmen—men of great learning, tact and influence. When these statesmen took their departure (at least those from northern Arizona) our citizens felt as though their absence had really created such a void that during their temporary stay at the seat of government we might need someone to guide our erring footsteps. These, our statesmen (too numerous to mention) of northern Arizona, were supposed to be the head and front of a motive power which would reflect a character of potent legislation, for the result of which to Arizona would in the future be constrained to look upon with pride, and that our people in northern Arizona would be pleased to raise their hats and gently bow their heads in reverence. But, oh! how have the mighty fallen. These great men! These giants! These successful statesmen! Each and every one, from Mott down! Failure, failure, failure, failure. Alas! alas! alas! To all your greatness, fare ye well!"

From Zion's Herald, the great religious weekly, which surely is not a partisan journal in any sense, are clipped these words of wisdom: "The author of the Tariff bill always insisted that time would vindicate his much-abused measure from aspersion, and demonstrate both its wisdom and benefit. It must be confessed that evidence is not lacking to confirm his prediction. The new status is bringing about new adjustments. For example, the famous English firm of Sir Titus Salt & Co., unwilling to lose their American trade in silk plushes, have purchased the Howe Sewing Machine Company's factory at Bridgeport, Conn., and will employ some six hundred hands in retaining their market. They will find American competitors who will produce an equally high grade of goods as long, and at a reduced price to the consumer. Upholstery plushes have not advanced since the passage of the McKinley bill, though burdened with an additional duty of 60 per cent. The 'scare' is evidently abating when a heavy clothing firm offers to furnish the best imported goods at the old prices. Last week a curious crowd in front of the Tribune building in New York City gazed at a sheet of American tin manufactured in Chicago from plates rolled in Pennsylvania. Tin plate was practically excluded from our market by a protective duty, and a great protest went up therefor. It was stoutly asserted that it would not, could not be manufactured in this country. The sheet referred to was accompanied by a bulletin which proclaimed 'American tin' to be a new industry, which will save nearly $400,000,000 of gold money to the United States in the next ten years; make work for tens of thousands of mechanics in this country at good wages, and reduce the price of tin plate—and all owing to the McKinley bill. It is believed that similar testimonials will multiply to such a degree before December next that the 'Fifty-second Congress will scarcely dare to meddle with a law which is so manifestly acceptable and beneficial.'"

Another State treasurer has gone wrong. His name is Herbert and he hails from Delaware. His deficit amounts to $104,000, all there was in the treasury. The list of Democratic erring State treasurers brought down to date is as follows:

State Treasurer Churchill, of Arkansas	$9,225
State Treasurer Fulk, of Tennessee	400,000
State Treasurer Vincent, of Alabama	243,148
State Treasurer Tate, of Kentucky	247,928
State Treasurer Burke, of Louisiana	827,000
State Treasurer Nolan, of Missouri	32,445
State Treasurer Hemingway, of Mississippi	315,000
State Treasurer Archer, of Maryland	200,000
State Treasurer Woodruff, of Arkansas	30,000
State Treasurer Herbert, of Delaware	104,000
Total	$2,670,143

The foregoing does not include other Democratic shortages, such as the little $25,000 or $30,000 episode of ex-Receiver Fred Smith, at Tucson, or that still smaller $7000 steal of "Little Steve" at Yuma.

If that Anti-Tights bill becomes a law in Minnesota, the young ladies who ride in circuses in that State will be in a dilemma. A young lady in trousers or in Bloomer costume jumping through a hoop would be an awfully funny spectacle until the public taste became educated up to that idea, and a ballet in pantalons would be a curiosity surely. People who have works of art in their homes in Minnesota had better not invite the member of the Legislature who introduced that bill into their homes. If he believes in the human form divine, he believes evidently in shading it, and it will be a wonder if he does not introduce a bill declaring that no more children shall be born unless they first shall be properly clothed.

Tucson at last has organized a Board of Trade.

KOUMISS

—THE GENUINE—

PROWELL'S KOUMISS

No beer, no wine, no malt extract to compare with it in nourishing strengthening and refreshing effects. (See the multitude of letters received continually from all over the country ordering and extolling it.) What is Koumiss they ask.

We will tell you.

We take fresh morning's milk as it comes from the dairy, pure and sweet, mix it with the proper fermenting materials, in proper proportions, bottle it, lay it away from six to twelve weeks—and that is all.

These bottles, when tapped with a champagne tap, yield a beverage of the greatest refreshing and nourishing qualities.

It is as gassy and sparkling as soda water, and of about the consistency of cream.

It is without doubt the finest beverage in the world, relished alike by sick and well, but to the invalid or convalescent it is a great boon. It is borne well by the stomach when no other food can be taken.

Many sick persons, especially consumptives and dyspeptics in various parts of the country, are now living wholly or in part on Koumiss, and we are in constant receipt of letters from both physicians and patients expressing the greatest satisfaction with it. The expressions of a few well known physicians we give.

Dr. J. Murphy, in speaking of Koumiss, says:

"It will be particularly efficacious in broken down, nervous systems, and when the assimilating function of the stomach has been impaired by disease or excess. In chronic lung affection, unfortunately so common in this district, it promises to fill a want which the physician has been impotent to supply. In the above affections and others associated with weakness I would highly recommend its regular and persistent use."

Dr. I. W. Johnson says:

"Dyspepsia is often cured by the use of Koumiss alone, it affording sufficient nourishment for the system without taxing the stomach in its digestion. I have been exceedingly gratified with the use of Koumiss in all cases where there is difficulty in assimilating the food. E. E. Prowell makes an excellent article, and as a beverage it excels the vinous or malt liquors."
